1. CALL TO ORDER, ACTION ON ABSENCES AND PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Chairman Searcy called the meeting of the Los Angeles County Small Craft Harbor Commission to order at 9:36 a.m. in the Burton W. Chace Park Community Room, Marina del Rey.

The Commissioners, staff and members of the public stood and recited the Pledge of Allegiance.

2. APPROVAL OF MINUTES

Vice-Chairperson Stevens moved and Commissioner Lesser seconded a motion to approve the January 12, 2005 minutes. The motion passed unanimously.

3. REGULAR REPORTS

a. Marina Sheriff

-- Crime Statistics

Lt. Greg Nelson reported that the statistics are probably lower than the Department has seen in quite some time. The year-end statistics also indicate that crimes are down across the board, with the exception of forceable rape. There is a continuing problem with vehicle burglaries in the subterranean garages on the waterside, with people continuing to leave their laptops, cell phones and CDs on vehicle front seats. The Department is planning to formulate strategies and plans to address the problem.

-- *Enforcement of Seaworthy & Liveaboard
Sections of the Harbor Ordinance*

Deputy Carvalho reported that no new Notices to Comply or warnings were issued during the month of February. He said that there are still efforts to acquire the funds to destroy the 18 vessels that have gone through the lien sale procedure. Another eight vessels are awaiting lien sale procedures.

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT

Ms. Carla Andrus asked whether copies of the Department of Motor Vehicle regulations are available for the public. She recalls that staff was requested at the January meeting to provide the regulations at today's meeting.

There was discussion as to the specific regulations to which Ms. Andrus was referring. Chairman Searcy clarified that at the January meeting he suggested that staff place copies of the seaworthy and illegal mooring ordinances on the public information table.

Deputy Carvalho commented that if Ms. Andrus is referring to regulations that pertain to lien sale procedures, they are covered in the Harbors and Navigations Code Section 504 and they are available on the Internet.

After further discussion, Ms. Andrus asked whether Deputy Carvalho could provide a copy of the regulations pertaining to lien sale procedures at the next meeting. Chairman Searcy responded that the material would be provided at that time.

b. Marina del Rey and Beach Special Events

Mr. Wisniewski reported that the upcoming events include the Opening Day Ceremonies for the MdR Yacht Clubs, Fisherman's Village Weekend Concerts, the annual MdR Anglers Halibut Derby and the Department sponsored Marina del Rey Outdoor Adventures, which includes bird watching and kayaking.

4. OLD BUSINESS

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT

Although no old business was listed on the agenda, Chairman Searcy opened the floor to public comment since he had received a request to speak on the item.

Ms. Andrus informed the Commission that she thought the Parcel 9U Woodfin Hotel project that was discussed at the January meeting would be on today's agenda under "Old Business." She said that at the January meeting, the Commission had requested a presentation on the matter and Chairman Searcy asked staff to present whatever information is available on the project.

Mr. Wisniewski clarified that at the January meeting there was discussion about the potential identification of a wetlands on Parcel 9U. At that meeting, he informed the Commission that the prospective developer of the site had retained a consultant to review and determine whether a wetland existed on the site. A report has been given to the lessee. When the Department obtains a copy of the report, it will be made available to the Commission and the public.

Chairman Searcy explained to Ms. Andrus that since the Department does not have any additional information from what was discussed at the January meeting, there is nothing new to present at today's meeting. The Department would present new information when it is available.

Ms. Andrus said that she recalls the Commission requesting staff to provide the same information that was provided to the Design Control Board. Ms. Andrus emphasized her need for clarification on the issues pertaining to Parcel 9U.

Chairman Searcy informed Ms. Andrus that at a prior Commission meeting staff presented an encapsulation of the Parcel 9U information that had been presented to the Design Control Board. He suggested that Ms. Andrus contact staff after today's meeting to request this material. Chairman Searcy stressed to her that the information currently available is that which was already provided at a prior meeting. He reiterated that there is no new information to give Ms. Andrus at this time. When there is new information available, it will be presented to the Commission.

5. NEW BUSINESS

a. Request for Authorization to Enter into Exclusive Negotiations for Parcel 1S (Fuel Dock) - Marina del Rey

Mr. Moliere informed the Commission that this item is a recommendation for exclusive negotiating authority for a new fuel dock facility at Parcel 1S. The Department received four proposals in response to a Request for Proposals (RFP). These proposals were judged by an evaluation committee. Attached to the Board letter is a complete report that provides a lot of detail about the proposals.

The Department received three proposals from existing lessees and one from a new proposer, Best Fuel, which is composed of a local restaurateur and gas station operator. The evaluation committee selected the BoatYard/Westrec proposal for the new fuel dock facility. The BoatYard is an existing lessee and Westrec is a national marina and marine fuel operator. The Department is requesting the Commission's recommendation to enter into exclusive negotiations with the BoatYard/Westrec proposers.

Mr. Moliere explained that the BoatYard/Westrec's plan is conceptual; however, the eventual negotiated plan should bear a strong resemblance to it. One criterion the evaluation panel was concerned about was that there be uninterrupted fuel service during any construction of new facilities. All of the proposers made a commitment to continue fuel services during construction. Some of the other services might have slight interruption, such as bait and other services; however, one aspect of the BoatYard/Westrec plan is that there is already an existing facility at Parcel 53 and many of those services could be transferred to Parcel 53 in the interim so there would be no interruption and services could continue.

The existing BoatYard facility has approximately a 250' long fueling station. The BoatYard/Westrec proposal has almost exactly the same area for fueling. The plan adds space for vessels up to 185', which has been a missing component in the Marina and provides for large transient berthing. There will be 15 other slips, including ten transient slips and five other slips available.

Chairman Searcy asked how the transient slips would be administered. Mr. Moliere responded that the lessee would administer the slips on a daily or weekly basis for boaters traveling through the area.

Chairman Searcy asked whether the slips are private. Mr. Moliere responded "yes" and said they would not be leased on a long-term basis.

Chairman Searcy asked whether the transient slips would be subject to the lessee's rules and regulations in terms of what constitutes transiency. Mr. Moliere responded that it would be the lessee's rules; however, the lease would probably address the issue as well since it is an issue the Department would be concerned about. There would be provisions in the lease that would define what would be considered transient in terms of time and duration of stay.

Further, Mr. Moliere stated that the BoatYard/Westrec proposal provides a retail kiosk of approximately 300' for bait and sundry merchandise sales. The proposal uniquely has an approximate 3000 square foot building for a restaurant facility with a view deck and it provides public bathroom facilities and a number of other amenities that are not there at the current fuel station. The proposal provides 13 parking spaces and a high-speed pump operation. One of the other features that the evaluation committee found appealing was that the BoatYard/Westrec proposal included a marketing plan to extend the fuel services and berthing to transient boats and larger boats throughout the area.

Chairman Searcy asked the height on the current building. Mr. Moliere responded that the current building is approximately 10' tall. There is a drop off from the parking lot area down toward the water, but at the level of the adjacent apartments, for example, there's approximately a 10' tall building.

Chairman Searcy asked the height of the proposed building. Mr. Moliere responded the height is approximately 13'.

Chairman Searcy said that he doesn't understand the plan to go from a one-story building at 10' high to a 2-story building that's 13' high. Mr. Moliere explained that there aren't really two floors in the true sense. There's a podium at one end with the floor above and then at the water level it drops to the bottom at dock level. Although it's theoretically two-stories, in fact, from the ground level at the back, it's actually 13' tall.

Mr. Wisniewski pointed out that as each new leasehold is redeveloped, there would be a requirement to open up the waterfront promenade. He hopes that someday in negotiation with Mariner's Village (Parcel 113) that it could be opened up so that there could be a waterfront promenade that comes from Aubrey Austin Park all the way around to bring people from the beach into Marina del Rey. The restaurant could prove to be very attractive for the people walking along the promenade as well as for the people who are having their boats fueled.

Chairman Searcy asked whether all of the proposals included docks with new high-speed pumps. Mr. Moliere responded that most of the proposals certainly did.

Chairman Searcy asked how parking would be accommodated. Mr. Moliere responded that the evaluation committee and the BoatYard/Westrec proposer considered this issue. The proposer made what the evaluation committee considered a good argument, which is that the parking is adequate because restaurant patrons would be pedestrians or boaters.

Chairman Searcy asked how parking would be accommodated if the restaurant became very successful. Mr. Moliere responded that there are several solutions, one of which is the public parking lot within approximately one-quarter mile of the restaurant and has approximately 60 spaces.

Mr. Wisniewski commented that it isn't going to take off as a restaurant for people who are driving because the intent is for the restaurant to be available for those people who come via boat and walking. If other people want to use it, they will need to find a place to park. The parking in the area is leasehold parking and there wouldn't be restaurant parking allocated. People can park in a County lot and walk to the restaurant, but Mr. Wisniewski doesn't think it's going to be very popular to do that.

Mr. Wisniewski reminded the Commissioners that one element of the Marina's Asset Management Strategy is to encourage people to leave their cars. The restaurant would provide a nice use for transient boaters even if they don't want to fuel up and just want to come for a nice meal. The beautiful location is certainly an asset.

Commissioner Lesser referred to the four proposal evaluations, which were attached to the Board letter, and suggested that in the future, staff list the pros and cons for each proposal side by side so that it would make the evaluations easier to read. Chairman Searcy agreed and suggested that the Department resume its former method of using a matrix to list the proposals so that Commissioners could clearly see the proposals' rank, strengths, drawbacks, etc.

Commissioner Lesser read the following paragraph from the BoatYard/Westrec proposal evaluation listed on page 7 of the attachment:

The main drawback to this proposal is the possible difficulty in obtaining entitlements, particularly to provide sufficient parking for the proposed restaurant. However, the proposer has experience managing development projects and making the related entitlement applications in the Marina and other areas, and has provided a plan to obtain a parking permit, which emphasizes the multi-modal transportation opportunities offered by the water taxi, as well as dinghies, boats, and pedestrian connections. This proposer has a coherent strategy to seek entitlements, and had specifically stated his willingness to downsize or otherwise change the use of the restaurant space to another visitor-serving use. Even with a reduced restaurant facility, the fueling experience and existing contracts of Westrec, together with the proposed merchandising approach, suggest that this proposal would provide the best opportunity to expand and improve fuel service operations and enhance the marketing image of the Marina.

In reference to the paragraph, Commissioner Lesser asked staff to identify the major difficulties in obtaining entitlements.

Before answering Commissioner Lesser's question, Mr. Moliere commented on the Commission's request to provide a matrix of the proposals. He explained that one of the difficulties with providing a matrix is that there are so many variables that sometimes there are not direct cognates among the proposed plans, but the Commissioners are correct that showing a matrix in the future would be helpful.

In response to Commissioner Lesser's entitlement question, Mr. Moliere said that there is sufficient parking. The BoatYard/Westrec analysis indicates that the current code would require four spaces for the permanent slips and one for the small kiosk. The transient slips require no parking, per code, and the remaining seven parking spaces would meet the requirements for the other parcel operations. BoatYard/Westrec concluded that the parking and other requirements were met because the parcel designation, the designation for entitlement, allows food service. It doesn't specifically, however, allow a restaurant per se.

Mr. Moliere said that the counter argument would be, if the Regional Planning Commission is not persuaded, that the BoatYard/Westrec would need a pure restaurant designation and would go to a requirement that is a number of seats times a multiple. If that happens and Boatyard/Westrec is not able to prevail, then the restaurant would not have the appropriate parking unless the company can make another arrangement with an adjacent lessee. The BoatYard/Westrec proposer indicated that if the company is unable to obtain the required parking, its strategy is to convert the facility to another visitor-serving use.

Chairman Searcy asked whether staff's position is that if BoatYard/Westrec is unable to obtain the required parking, it would still remain the recommended proposal. Mr. Moliere responded, "yes," and explained that in terms of numbers, there's a fair gap that went from approx. 90 points to 68 points. He noted that in all the four categories, BoatYard/Westrec was the highest rated proposal in all four.

Commissioner Lesser asked what the economic detriment to Boatyard/Westrec would be if the restaurant didn't work. Mr. Moliere responded that the restaurant is not a huge component and amounts to something under 11%. If the difference in actual dollars among the proposers is considered, BoatYard/Westrec would still be the highest proposer at the $300,000 level. The current lessee's, Marina Fuels, proposal was somewhat higher; however the evaluation committee didn't feel it was a realistic projection. The projection was $421,000 and the committee thought it was overly optimistic.

Commissioner Lesser asked whether the other proposers require any new entitlements other than what they already have. Mr. Moliere responded, "yes," but maybe in a different way. He explained that one of the recurrent difficulties with a smaller parcel is the flop over on the waterside and whether or not fairways are broached. There's a current problem right now that is possibly a difficulty in that some of the docks require actual intrusion into adjacent leaseholds in order to properly access them. These kinds of problems were involved in at least one of the other proposals. There always are various difficulties to one degree or another. None of the difficulties appear to be serious but all had, to one extent or another, some possible requirement for entitlement or other zoning adjustment.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens asked whether the cruise ships anchored in the Marina buy their fuel at the fuel dock or go elsewhere. Mr. Moliere responded that he knows the Catalina ferry buys its fuel in the Marina and he believes the Fantasea Yachts do as well; there's nothing else close enough otherwise.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens commented that it's an important issue because the ferry and the Fantasea are big ships. Mr. Wisniewski asked her to explain the importance of whether ships do or don't buy their fuel in the Marina. Vice-Chairperson Stevens responded that it's important because these ships rely on the Marina's fuel dock, whose purpose is to be a fuel dock, not a restaurant, but a fuel dock.

Chairman Searcy asked whether, under the recommended proposal, it is sufficient to continue fueling for both the Catalina ferry and the Fantasea Yachts, etc. Mr. Wisniewski responded, "yes."

Vice-Chairperson Stevens questioned whether people would want to dine at a restaurant and watch the boats being pumped out or filled with fuel. Mr. Moliere responded that the restaurant is fairly removed from the fueling station and not directly in front of the planned restaurant. The views can be oriented either across or toward the far end of the channel. He added that some people like to watch the fueling activity and the restaurant will have view decks.

Mr. Wisniewski commented that he is aware of a restaurant in the Orange County area that's adjacent to the launch ramp and he finds it entertaining to have lunch there and watch people launching their boats. He doesn't remember whether there is a fuel facility, but there are people who find activities related to the marine environment interesting.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens commented that she could imagine the fuel dock offering food service with prepackaged meals for take out orders. Many of the boaters go to the Ralphs deli now for take out food. It would be fine for people to have an opportunity to buy a packaged lunch and motor off in a boat.

Mr. Wisniewski informed the Commission that Mr. Greg Schem, The BoatYard/Westrec proposer, is at today's meeting to answer any questions the Commission has pertaining to the restaurant and other plans.

Before Mr. Schem came to the podium, Commissioner Crail asked whether the proposed fuel dock would remain the same length. Mr. Moliere responded that the proposed dock is within 10' of the current dock length.

Commissioner Crail said that currently there are diesel fuel dispensers on the north side and the gas lane on the south. He commented that the new fuel dock should have the same amount of fuel dispensers and the gas and diesel should remain separated.

Commissioner Crail also commented that boaters use the inside for fueling but The BoatYard/Westrec proposal has the inside designated for water taxis, bait, etc. Mr. Moliere informed him that the proposal is conceptual and Mr. Schem can discuss the details with the Commission.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens said that she loves the idea of a transient space for boats, but she can't envision, after taking a drive and looking at the site, a restaurant there, particularly with Fisherman's Village being redone with new restaurants, etc.

Chairman Searcy reminded everyone that today, first and foremost, the Commission is being asked to approve a recommendation for the Department to begin negotiations within which the refinement of some of these ideas could be brought to bear.

Mr. Greg Schem came to the podium and expressed appreciation for the way the Department handled the RFP process. He said.

I look forward to having this opportunity to be selected and look forward to working with the County and lessees in the Marina. I heard a lot of questions about what the concept was here. We run the Marina del Rey BoatYard. Fuel, first and foremost, was a fairly easy part of the proposal to address. My operating partner, Westrec, actually runs 32 other fueling stations around the country and are the largest owner and operator of marinas nationwide.

We have taken a lot of time and consideration to engineer state of the art high-speed operations, operating pumps that would pump in excess of 60 gallons per minute. We have additional technology, such as the ability for fast pay so that large commercial services, such as the ferry we talked about could come off ours and fuel up. These boats with large tanks take a long time to fuel up so they can do this after hours. They have their speed pass. They can swipe it by. There will always be an attendant there making sure there are no spills and that all safety requirements are taken care of. These people can be out of the way of the recreational boater who typically shows up early in the morning to get bait, fuel and go out and do what they're going to do.

The fuel part of it we've put a lot of thought to it and I think we've extensively answered that we've got the ability to do a good job on the fuel delivery systems. The issue of the restaurant comes from a conceptual thought of how do we do more in Marina del Rey than we currently have. We looked at the site and said, 'what else can we do here to make it more exciting?' The restaurant came from the idea that we've got this water taxi and it's a wonderful thing but in a lot of ways it doesn't go anywhere. These people get on it, they drive around and that's a fun experience. For people who aren't boaters that's a nice experience, but where does it go? Where is its designation, like Newport Beach or some other comparable location with a place to off load and do something fun and entertaining?

We thought, and as Roger pointed out, this was early in the process, that some kind of area where people can gather, have food, whether it's prepackaged or in restaurant, and we originally went with the restaurant concept because we thought, as many fuel stations have around the world, they do have a restaurant use next to them. For a lot of people who aren't boaters they find it pretty entertaining to pull up and see the activity. There's a fish weighing station for tournaments. There's boats coming in and out. There's a lot of activity, people baiting up and getting out in the morning. I think there is more demand for that type of entertainment use than you would think, whether it's prepackaged or whether it's on-site food prep.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens commented that there appears to be a dichotomy. On the one hand, Mr. Schem is saying that people like to drive up and go to a restaurant and watch the boats being fueled, but earlier the Commission was told that the plan is to provide a place for boaters and pedestrians to go. She thought the idea is for people to drive up in their boats, not their vehicles. Mr. Schem clarified that he was referring to people "driving" up in their boats rather than their vehicles.

Vice-Chairman Stevens said that the people driving up in their boats are those people who are already familiar with the marine environment. Mr. Schem said that people who utilize the water taxi might not be familiar with the marine environment. They could park their cars, board the water taxi and get dropped off at the BoatYard/Westrec restaurant. Additionally, the restaurant, with its viewing platform, would be a nice place for people walking the promenade.

Commissioner Crail commented that he wanted to ensure the new docks would provide the same ability to fuel the boats as what currently exists. Mr. Schem assured him that there would be high-speed fueling pumps operating on both sides of the platform. There would also be electronic access and a split tank system so there could be premixed fuels.

Commissioner Crail asked whether both sides of the platform would be available for fueling. Mr. Schem responded that both sides of the main fuel dock would be available.

Commissioner Lesser asked Mr. Schem, hypothetically speaking, if the Commission were given the choice to either keep the current facility or proceed with The BoatYard/Westrec proposal, how would the proposed facility enhance the boater's experience and improve the ability to handle more boaters. Mr. Schem was asked, for the point of discussion, to disregard the potential revenue to the County and restaurant benefits and cite other advantages to proceeding with The BoatYard/Westrec proposal.

Mr. Schem responded that, as a boater, he really understands and could answer Commissioner Lesser's question. He said that the answer pertains to improving the level of service. The fuel dock needs to be able to pump more fuel more efficiently and have more extensive hours with more professionally trained individuals. He stressed that he isn't criticizing the current operation, but there has to be better oil containment for potential spills. Currently, there's an oil change business at the location that is a very nice amenity but he believes it's more appropriately done at The BoatYard where there is the secondary containment and security and environmental systems are ready to go if there is a release.

Mr. Schem said that it comes down to the technology and ability to pump fuels, more diverse makeup of the fuels that can be sold, and a faster and more professional operation.

Commissioner Lesser asked Mr. Schem to comment on the transient dock plans. Mr. Schem responded that the concept with the transient docks is to make them more accessible to the public and be a place where the public can view, eat and watch the boating activity. Presently, he can't think of a place in the Marina where a person with a dinghy can pull up, tie up his/her boat and recreate in one way or another. Forty percent of the boats in the Marina never leave the slip. Their primary purpose is entertainment at the dock.

Mr. Schem said he is not claiming that the fuel operation is great entertainment, but it would be great to be able to take a boat somewhere and use it and from that activity venture out and do more exciting things. He wants boaters to use the Marina for more boater recreational activities.

Chairman Searcy asked the number of stations or pumps that are at the existing fuel dock. Commissioner Crail responded that he believes there are four diesel pumps and one gas pump. A member of the public interjected that the total number is 17.

Chairman Searcy asked Mr. Schem for the number of stations planned at The BoatYard/Westrec fuel dock. Mr. Schem estimated five pumps at each platform for, he believes, a total of 23.

Mr. Schem said that even with respect to restaurant use, his company is thrilled about trying to improve this particular parcel and proceed with its plans. He looks forward to working with the County and lessees and understands that the surrounding lessees have concerns about the restaurant use as well. He wants to work with them and, hopefully, come up with a solution that makes it workable for everybody.

Mr. Wisniewski commented that the new facility provides a docking space for the water taxi. There will also be a place for people to go and have a meal and give them something to do. This would provide a reason to go to the location.

Chairman Searcy asked whether the other proposals included the water taxi. Mr. Wisniewski responded that all the proposals provided water taxi space at the docks. He added that on the Westside of the Marina, there's a predominance of apartments and, if he were a tenant, he would welcome a restaurant he could walk to. The Chart House, which is on one of the mole roads on the Westside, is a perfect example of how a restaurant can succeed in a residential neighborhood whereas others have not.

Chairman Searcy asked whether the other proposals have restaurants or other amenities. Mr. Moliere responded that many did. For example, one proposal included a market café concept.

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT

Ms. Patricia Younis, of The Bridge Group, attended today's meeting representing the Marina Fuels and Service. Marina Fuels and Service is the current fuel dock operator and one of the proposers. Ms. Younis said that her position at the meeting is not to offer criticism and she is very respectful of Mr. Schem.

Ms. Younis relayed Mr. Warrington's regret for his inability to address the Commission himself. She said that "our position here is that we are extraordinarily disappointed because we tried very hard to remember that this is a fuel dock." Marina Fuel provided lots of high-speed pumps as well as food. The station has already been an official fish weighing station for the past 15 years and is very involved in the sport fishing industry.

Ms. Younis asked whether the proposers' submittals would be available for public review and how she could obtain them. She also requested the timeline for the Department's recommendation to the Board.

Mr. Wisniewski responded that he believes any member of the public can view the submitted proposals and doesn't believe that any of the proposers have submitted any proprietary information. Mr. Moliere commented that to the extent there is proprietary information the proposals would not be available to the public.

Mr. Moliere said that if the public wants copies there may or may not be a charge depending on what the person needed. There are a limited number of proposals because they contain a lot of color graphics and other work. The Department requested 15 copies of each proposal from respondents and many of those were given to the evaluation committee for its use. The proposals are public record and are available for viewing in the office. If anyone wants copies, staff would arrange to have them made.

As for the submission to the Board, Mr. Wisniewski stated that the Board letter would probably be filed with the Executive Office on March 10 to appear on the March 22 Board agenda.

Mr. David Levine, on behalf of Marina Pacific Associates, which is the lessee for Marina Harbor Apartments and Anchorage (Parcels 111/112), informed the Commission that Marina Pacific also submitted a proposal for the fuel docks and was disappointed in not being selected. Mr. Levine made clear that he isn't attending the meeting to question the judgment of the evaluation committee, but is taking serious issue with the plan itself. Marina Pacific is not concerned about who is doing the plan but what is being done that is of paramount concern.

Mr. Levine said that the evaluation committee memorandum that was given to the Commission mischaracterized Marina Pacific's proposals in a number of interesting ways. He referred to the following statement, which appears in the fifth paragraph on page 6 of the memo: "Marina Pacific proposes that the County forego percentage rent for 9 years." Mr. Levine said that this statement gives the impression that the company was not submitting a proposal that would provide for rent. He clarified that Marina Pacific proposed a high minimum ground rent. In fact, the minimum ground rent that was offered was substantially higher than that which was offered by BoatYard/Westrec. Additionally, Marina Pacific made the offer that if its marketing effort was successful and the operation sold more gasoline than was projected the percentage ground rent would kick in sooner. In the end, if the project were successful, the County would benefit.

Mr. Levine said he wanted to make clear that his company proposed a combination of a higher minimum ground rent and a kicker if the project was successful for the County. Mr. Levine clarified the matter because he believes what the evaluation committee did was a "kind of clever mischaracterization of what we've done."

Mr. Wisniewski took exception at Mr. Levine's use of the term, "clever," because the word implies that staff intentionally mischaracterized the information that was provided to the Commission and Mr. Levine should know better than that.

Mr. Moliere explained that Mr. Levine is correct in stating that Marina Pacific provided a minimum rent of approximately $137,000; however, the company did have a provision that it would not pay percentage rent unless it reached a certain high level goal because of what it characterized as the high cost going in. The evaluation committee's calculation indicated that even at the 10-year mark Marina Pacific would still be approximately $87,000 below the Schem/Westrec proposal. The minimum ground rent difference between the proposals is approximately $20,000.

Mr. Levine apologized for his inappropriate language. He said that Mr. Moliere's statement was correct. Mr. Levine explained that Marina Pacific offered a higher minimum ground rent and suggested that if additional fuel was sold and above its projection, the County would benefit because the company would then begin to pay percentage ground rent once the threshold of fuel sales was passed.

Commissioner Lesser commended Marina Pacific for being one of the best lessees in the Marina. He expressed his hope, however, that the decision would be made over the quality of the proposal rather than the approximate $20,000 in rent revenue. He isn't saying that Marina Pacific had a bad proposal, but the weight was probably placed on experience rather than $20,000.

Mr. Levine stressed that it wasn't really the selected proposer but the plan itself that was of concern to Marina Pacific.

Mr. Levine continued, informing the Commission that Marina Pacific provided the most boat slips of any of the proposers. Additionally, he wanted to make it clear that Marina Pacific offered a takeout food facility as well as a park to be constructed on the parcel. The concept was to provide a pleasant experience for pedestrians and Marina Pacific's proposal offered a takeout facility and larger park in which to enjoy watching the fuel dock operation. Marina Pacific is unalterably opposed to a two-story building and a sit down restaurant on the site.

Further, Mr. Levine said that there were also issues about the inability to control the parking, noise, traffic, garbage, liquor license, fumes, the lighting and whether or not the restaurant would be a nighttime operation. He explained that if there is no parking provided for restaurant patrons and there is sole reliance on pedestrian or boaters, while the nearest parking facility is one half mile away, the Design Control Board would probably preclude having sufficient lighting because of its interference with the nighttime sky. It would be very difficult to have a restaurant operating after dark. Mr. Levine questioned the pressing need to do a project that would compromise the quality of life.

Mr. Levine said that the BoatYard/Westrec project would require an amendment to the LCP. Currently, Parcel 1 is zoned as marine commercial rather than visitor-serving commercial. There is no additional parking and no additional development potential in terms of commercial space. Even if BoatYard/Westrec wants to use the waterfront overlay zone a conditional use permit would be required, which would raise questions about parking, traffic generation, lighting. It would raise a variety of questions.

Mr. Levine told the Commission that the two neighboring parcels are going to object to the plan, not to the operator but to the plan, through the entire entitlement process.

Chairman Searcy commented that BoatYard/Westrec has extensive fuel operation experience. He asked Mr. Levine how many fuel facilities Marina Pacific operates. Mr. Levine responded that under the terms of the Parcels 111/112 lease, the County of Los Angeles required the company to retain a professional marina management firm to manage the anchorage. Currently, the Bellport Group is under contract, which operates fuel facilities elsewhere around the United States, although not as many as the owners of Westrec and The BoatYard.

Chairman Searcy commented that Mr. Levine did not answer his question as to how many fuel facilities Marina Pacific operates. Mr. Levine responded that he believes the number is four. Mr. Levine explained to Chairman Searcy that he had expanded Chairman Searcy's question to address the issue of the state requirements. Mr. Levine said that in order to dispense fuel a California state license is needed.

Mr. Levine said that if the issue is whether there is synergy with The BoatYard, then the question should be asked as to why isn't the fuel facility closer to The BoatYard along Fiji Way, very near the boat launch ramp, very near Fisherman's Village, which has restaurants already, very near The BoatYard so that oil changes can be done more efficiently.

Mr. Levine questioned why the facility, if the goal is to have more visitor-serving uses, isn't built on the other side of the Marina where there is already zoning and complimentary activities.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens commented on her difficulty in formulating an opinion. A matrix would have made it easier to see what the proposals offered and compare them. There needs to be clarity regarding the number of fuel pumps and transient slips that are proposed for the new facility. She reiterated her concern about the planned restaurant and commented that if a park were there, it would be more sensible than a two-story restaurant.

Ms. Carla Andrus commented that the idea of a park at the fuel facility is a good idea. She also suggested that it would make a good fishing location as well as site for a snack concession. Ms. Andrus disagreed that the location is a good place for a restaurant.

Mr. Shaun Lee, boater and Marina resident, pointed out that there is nothing to do in Marina del Rey. Once a person leaves the Marina, there is nothing to do. He said that in the past he was able to dock and stop at the El Torito restaurant; a boater could pull up there, dock, have lunch, and leave. This can't be done anymore. Mr. Lee and his friends also drive by the old fuel dock and wonder why it can't be used for anything. There also used to be a 15-minute loading area so that boaters could go the Jamaica Bay Inn to have breakfast.

Mr. Lee said that everyone leaves MdR and goes somewhere else. The boaters launch their boats and go to King Harbor, where there is parking. On a Saturday, King Harbor has plenty of boaters stopping at the restaurants and bars. Boaters also go to Long Beach, where there's plenty of restaurants, or Oxnard, where there's plenty of restaurants.

Mr. Lee commented that his purpose at today's meeting isn't to recommend which company would best provide fuel services; however, he would like the Commission to consider the fact that money needs to be generated for the County and its services. There was a time when Fisherman's Village was bustling with people, but now even on a Saturday no one is there. Something has gone wrong. MdR was a thriving marina with things happening and now everything has come to a dead halt. There are less boat slips, more apartments, more traffic. There are no good services and that's why the Marina is failing.

Mr. Lee reiterated that there are no restaurants for boaters to pull up to in the Marina and go have lunch. Boaters can park at Chace Park but there is nothing at Chace Park for them to do. He added that Catalina is an example of a fuel dock that has a restaurant sitting on top of it that is always filled with people on the weekends.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens asked whether the Department would submit the Parcel 1S Board letter on March 10 for the Board meeting on March 15. Mr. Wisniewski responded that if the letter is submitted to the Executive Office on March 10, the Board would discuss it at the March 22 meeting.

Chairman Searcy asked Mr. Wisniewski to clarify what the Department is requesting authorization to do. Mr. Wisniewski responded that the Department and the Chief Administrative Officer are requesting authorization to proceed with negotiations with Harbor Real Estate LP (The BoatYard) and Westrec Marina Management. He said that the Department would have to bring back to the Board of Supervisors and the Commission the actual lease, which would flush out and respond to the concerns that were raised by the Commission and the public.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens requested staff to pay particular attention to the many suggestions made today regarding the use of Parcel 1S.

Commissioner Lesser moved and Commissioner Crail seconded a motion to approve the Director's recommendation to request Board authorization for the CAO and the Director to enter into exclusive negotiations for Parcel 1S (Fuel Dock) - Marina del Rey with the understanding that there are major concerns by neighbors, boaters, etc., and the primary goals should be to: 1) enhance the boating experience; 2) appease the neighbors as much as possible; and 3) generate as much money for the County as possible. The motion was passed unanimously.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens asked whether the Department is the negotiator. Mr. Wisniewski responded that the Department and the Chief Administrative Office are the negotiators. He noted that Commissioner Lesser's motion encapsulated the Commission's and public comments into three priorities to include during negotiations: 1) maximizing services to the boaters; 2) resolving issues with neighbors; and 3) maximizing revenue to the County.

Mr. Wisniewski suggested there could also be a fourth goal (or supplement to the third goal), which is to maximize visitor-serving uses since there would also be the transient boat operation and the water taxi operation.

- b. Approval of First Amendment to Option to Amend Lease No. 13508 – Parcels 95S and LLS (Marina West Shopping Center) – Marina del Rey
- c. Approval of Amendment No. 5 to Lease No. 13509 – Parcel 97R (Marina Beach Shopping Center) – Marina del Rey

Mr. Moliere stated that Agenda Items 5b (Marina West Shopping Center) and 5c (Marina Beach Shopping Center) are the two shopping centers on Washington Blvd. & Via Marina and are under the same ownership, Gold Coast (Michael Pashaie and David Taban). Both of the shopping center's redevelopment projects have already been approved by the Commission and most of the regulatory agencies.

Mr. Moliere said that an extensive renovation on Parcel 97 and a complete teardown on Parcel 95 are planned. Two public parks will be constructed and dedicated to the public with fountains and water features at the corner. There is currently a Wells Fargo Bank at Parcel 95. The plan is to relocate the bank to Parcel 97, which is already under construction. The lessee would simultaneously improve Parcel 97 by providing a park space to the public, which would be approximately 70% larger than originally approved and would provide additional fees to the County.

The Parcel 97 project goes from an initial cost of $2.9 million to $5.4 million, which is a substantial increase of the cost that the lessee will pay to change the configuration and to add a larger park space. The County has agreed to extend the lease by an additional eight years, which would allow the lessee to recover the investment and finance the project. Additionally, the lessee is paying another $160,000 in additional extension fees to the County, which would be added to the $400,000 the lessee was paying under the original deal.

Parcel 95 would remain the same size; however, instead of the Wells Fargo Bank, the tenancy would be oriented to restaurant-retail. The project would remain the same; however, the lessee needs a further extension of time to exercise the option because in the interim the Regional Planning Department asked the lessee to consider adding a residential component, which the lessee spent some time exploring until determination was made that the idea wasn't feasible. The lessee has now gone back to the original plan approved by the Commission and the Board of Supervisors. This whole process put the lessee behind schedule and additional time is needed to obtain the final entitlements. The Department is proposing that the lessee be granted the additional time but at a cost, which is $31,666.50.

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT ON ITEM 5B—PARCELS 95S and LLS

Mr. Donald Klein, president, Coalition to Save the Marina, expressed the Coalition's opposition to the proposal. He said one reason for the opposition is because the project wasn't approved by the L.A. County Real Estate Commission.

Mr. Klein also mentioned that he's taken aback by the discussion since he and the general public have not seen the plans, yet the Department is preparing to submit them to the Board. Mr. Moliere commented that the material was mailed to the Commission and members of the public that are on the mailing list.

Commissioner Lesser asked how the L.A. County Real Estate Commission is involved with the projects. Mr. Faughnan responded that the Real Estate Commission has nothing to do with the projects. He explained that all of the Marina leases are specifically and expressly exempt from review by the Real Estate Management Commission, which is similar to the Small Craft Harbor Commission. By ordinance, all other leases and property deals in the County go to the Real Estate Management Commission. Marina del Rey is excluded from the Real Estate Commission's review.

Mr. Klein informed the Commission of a sewage problem. The lessee installed a 21" new water main, but did not expand the size of the sewage system. The remodeling that was done to repair some of the problems made the sewage system's interior smaller. He said this is a serious problem that the Commission might want to address with all of the projects. Mr. Klein said that, as he understands it, approximately 10 years ago, the sewage system had almost reached capacity.

Further, Mr. Klein said the development plans on Parcels 95 and 97 are so huge that each one of the projects needs a public hearing. Mr. Klein doesn't believe that the general public has had any opportunity to review the plans nor has he has seen the plans before even though he is on the mailing list. He stressed the need to involve the public and believes that Public Resources Code 30006, which requires public participation, is being violated.

Mr. Moliere commented that none of the plans submitted today, except for the increase in the park's size, are different than what has already been approved by the Commission and other advisory bodies.

Chairman Searcy recalled that at a previous meeting the Commission was given a presentation, including a slide show, on the Parcel 95 and 97 development projects.

Ms. Andrus asked for clarification why the Department is seeking an eight-year lease extension for increased park space. Chairman Searcy responded that park space is only one aspect. There is also an increase in the cost of the redevelopment work.

Ms. Andrus asked Commissioner Lesser whether he has a sublease at Islands Restaurant on Parcel 95. Ms. Andrus also asked, if Commissioner Lesser is an owner, whether his comments pertaining to Parcel 95 would be excluded when the Commission takes action on the item.

Commissioner Lesser responded that he has a very small interest in the Islands partnership and there is a restaurant on Parcel 95S. He explained that he originally bought part of the Manhattan Beach restaurant approximately 15 years ago and the partnership was expanded in all of the restaurants.

Commissioner Lesser questioned whether he should exclude himself from voting on the matter. Mr. Faughnan responded that Commissioner Lesser should abstain from voting on Item 5B--Parcels 95S and LLS.

Ms. Andrus commented that she would like to better understand the projects and see a presentation. Chairman Searcy suggested that she read the materials that staff gave the Commission. He also reminded Ms. Andrus that she was present at the meeting in which staff gave a presentation on the projects.

Additionally, Chairman Searcy told Ms. Andrus that, regarding Parcel 97, there isn't a lot to understand other than the lessee is increasing the park's size. Ms. Andrus said that granting the lessee another eight years for the park increase is unnecessary. She said that the park size should remain as it is and she doesn't see the point of extending the Parcel 97 lease to an additional eight years.

Commissioner Crail moved and Chairman Searcy seconded a motion to recommend Board approval of the First Amendment to Option to Amend Lease No. 13508 – Parcels 95S and LLS (Marina West Shopping Center) – Marina del Rey. The motion passed with Chairman Searcy, Vice-Chairperson Stevens and Commissioner Crail voting in favor and an abstention from Commissioner Lesser.

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT ON ITEM 5C – PARCEL 97R

Mr. Donald Klein expressed his concern that there wasn't sufficient attention given to the traffic situation that the shopping center's redevelopment would generate. He said that he doesn't believe the traffic studies done many years ago are up to date with consideration of the residential units that have been built in the surrounding area. He said the Local Coastal Plan should be reviewed before the projects are further considered and implemented.

Ms. Andrus agreed with Mr. Klein's traffic concerns.

Mr. Moliere commented that the square footage would remain the same after the project is completed so the development shouldn't result in increased traffic.

Commissioner Lesser moved and Commissioner Crail seconded a motion to recommend Board approval of the Amendment No. 5 to Lease No. 13509 – Parcel 97R (Marina Beach Shopping Center) – Marina del Rey. The motion was passed unanimously.

d. Approval of First Amendment to Option to Amend Lease No. 6125 – Parcel 140V (Admiralty Apartments) – Marina del Rey

Mr. Moliere reported that the Parcel 140V (Admiralty Apts.) lessee is also Gold Coast. There are no changes in the plans, which have already been approved by the Commission and other advisory bodies. The only issue today is granting the lessee an extension of time in order to exercise the option and obtain the full set of final entitlements and permits. The lessee is behind in this process, perhaps, because it underestimated the time that was necessary.

Mr. Moliere said that the County has notified the lessee that if the lessee wants an extension of time to obtain entitlements, a charge would be imposed. The recommended charge is $16,000 for the three months remaining and $5,000 plus for any additional months remaining, which would equate to approximately one-third of the original option fee. The lessee has agreed to pay the costs.

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT

Mr. Donald Klein came to the podium and informed the Commission that he doesn't have anything to add other than what he stated previously.

Ms. Andrus asked what are the options if the lessee doesn't obtain its permits in a timely manner. She questioned whether the lessee's project could be shelved and the Department could then issue a request for proposals for the parcel. Chairman Searcy responded that the Department has the option to: 1) grant the lessee a time extension, without charging additional costs, in order to complete its entitlement process; or 2) grant a time extension and charge the lessee.

Chairman Searcy commented that there might be a third option. Since the lessee still has 20-plus years on the lease, the lease could be allowed to expire and there would be no refurbishment or redevelopment on the property.

Ms. Andrus said that she would like the Commission to consider this third option and allow the 20-year lease to expire since Admiralty Apartments are fine the way they are. She doesn't think the apartments need to be there at all since they cause increased traffic and density and the building's height blocks the mountain range. If the lease were allowed to expire, Ms. Andrus suggested that the Department could issue a Request for Proposals for the parcel.

Commissioner Crail moved and Commissioner Lesser seconded a motion to recommend Board approval of the First Amendment to Option to Amend Lease No. 6125 – Parcel 140V (Admiralty Apartments) – Marina del Rey. The motion was passed unanimously.

- e. Approval of Second Amendment to Option Agreement and Joint Escrow Instructions for Lease Nos. 6734 and 11140 – Parcels 44U (Pier 44) and 77W (Del Rey) – Marina del Rey

Mr. Moliere informed the Commission that Gold Coast is also the lessee for Parcels 44U and 77W. This option agreement is one the County acquired to reacquire Parcel 77 and the westerly portion of Parcel 44. The County intends to acquire the parcel in order to expand Chace Park, allow for more transient boat slips and water programs for children and to provide more green space. The option expires in June. Because it is connected with the development of Parcel 44 and that has not proceeded per schedule and is not yet finished, the lessee has agreed to extend at no cost to the County the option that the County has to purchase it.

CHAIRMAN SEARCY OPENED THE FLOOR TO PUBLIC COMMENT

Mr. Shaun Lee asked whether the plan is to reduce the Dock 77 area. Mr. Moliere responded that there are long range plans to increase public docks. There is also a plan to replace all of Parcel 77 and increase that number of current boat storage spaces and other facilities in terms of on-land storage, in water storage, boat repair and a number of other things, including plans for an additional dry stack storage that would be added to the now existing land based storage on Parcel 77, which would ultimately go over to Parcels 52 and GG.

Mr. Lee said he heard that the Boy Scouts Sea Base lease was diminished. Mr. Moliere informed Mr. Lee that what he heard was incorrect. The Sea Base is under construction and once it is finished, the Boy Scouts will have use of the facility.

Chairman Searcy requested The Argonaut reporter, who was sitting in the audience, to publish information in the newspaper concerning the Sea Base and he suggested that the reporter meet with Mr. Moliere after today's meeting to obtain the details.

Mr. Lee asked whether boater services would remain or increase. Chairman Searcy responded that the boater services would increase. No services would be diminished.

Mr. Thomas Cook asked why there are plans to expand Chace Park when he has never even seen the park filled with people. Chairman Searcy responded that there are members of the public who want and lobby for more park space. He commented that the Commission has heard different views from various people about what the Marina should offer. Some people support additional parks while other people oppose them. Some people don't want any new development in the Marina while other people want modernization, etc.

Mr. Cook expressed his understanding that there are many different groups who want different things. He stressed, however, that the Commission is a small craft harbor commission and he doesn't want to see the Marina as a tourist destination with lots of high rise hotels, but no space for people who own small crafts, for which the harbor was originally dredged.

Mr. Cook commented that it seems very convenient to him that Parcel 77 is going the way of green space but part of Parcel 44 is going to be used for a new hotel complex. He asked whether there is quid pro quo going on.

Chairman Searcy responded that the Commission has heard such insinuations before. He informed Mr. Cook that the Parcel 77 project would actually increase boater services.

Relative to the planned hotel on Parcel 44, Mr. Moliere explained that there was an RFP process and the Parcel 44 lessee submitted a proposal for a hotel on the parcel. The hotel project was already approved by the Board for negotiation prior to the option being given. Afterwards, because the Department requested the lessee to do so, it negotiated a price to purchase some of the land on Parcel 44 that wasn't needed for the hotel along with Parcel 77 so that additional land could be added to park space.

Mr. Cook asked whether the County is terminating the lessee's lease. Mr. Moliere responded that the County is terminating the lessee's lease for its remaining term.

Mr. Cook asked who would operate the dry stack storage on Parcel 77. Mr. Moliere responded that a new lessee would operate the facility and that it would be on Parcels 52 and GG rather than Parcel 77.

Mr. Klein expressed the Coalition to Save the Marina's opposition to the project because it's "so parceled together with all these different things going on here." He said that even though there are plans for a dry stack storage facility, he hasn't seen any information presented on the planned repair facility. Mr. Moliere responded that the repair facility is being replaced with an enlarged facility.

Commissioner Lesser commented that he believes Mr. Klein attended the meeting in which the Parcel 77 and Parcel 44 plans were discussed in depth. Commissioner Lesser clarified that today the Department is only requesting the Commission's recommendation to extend the time in which the County may exercise its rights and options to acquire Parcels 77 and a portion of Parcel 44 at no cost to the County.

Mr. Klein said that since the plan involves a buyback he would like to know how determination was made on the amount of money the County would pay and whether it was based on a fair and reasonable turn of investment. Mr. Moliere told Mr. Klein that there was an independent appraisal of the cost, which showed that the County's payment was at or below market value; therefore, the County was getting an acceptable deal.

Mr. Klein asked whether the County is in the business of buying back property. Chairman Searcy responded that if Mr. Klein, like the lessee, owned property that the County wanted to purchase, then Mr. Klein, like the lessee, would have the right to charge the County for the property.

Mr. Klein said his concern is that the business deals don't involve the public but are done between the Board of Supervisors, the Design Control Board and the Small Craft Harbor Commission. Chairman Searcy informed Mr. Klein that when Mr. Klein attends meetings he has the opportunity to contribute input.

Relative to the Boy Scout Sea Base, Mr. Klein asked whether the Department was required to obtain a California Coastal Permit since the building is not connected to the parcel of land but is in the water. Mr. Klein suggested that the Commission consider this matter.

Mr. David Lennarton suggested that the Commission conduct Saturday meetings so that there would be more opportunities for the public to contribute input. Chairman Searcy informed him that the Commission has held night meetings, which were well attended. Chairman Searcy suggested that Mr. Lennarton look in The Argonaut or on the Department's website for upcoming meetings.

Mr. Lennarton said that he has a fairly new boat that seems to regularly break down and Steve Weinman is a good repair person who is always available to fix it. Mr. Lennarton is concerned that the existing repair facility would be removed before a new one is available for boaters.

Mr. Moliere assured Mr. Lennarton that in all cases in which public facilities, like boat storage and boat repair, are replaced, the new facilities must be constructed and in operation before the old facilities are removed.

Commissioner Lesser moved and Commissioner Crail seconded a motion to recommend Board approval of Second Amendment to Option Agreement and Joint Escrow Instructions for Lease Nos. 6734 and 11140 – Parcels 44U (Pier 44) and 77W (Del Rey) – Marina del Rey. The motion passed with Chairman Searcy, Commissioner Lesser and Commissioner Crail voting in favor. Vice-Chairperson Stevens momentarily left the room and did not vote on the item.

- f. Approval of Assignment of Leasehold Interest for Lease No. 10665 – Parcel 33 (Harbor House Restaurant) – Marina del Rey

Chairman Searcy noted that this item was removed from the agenda.

6. STAFF REPORTS

a. Ongoing Activities Report

Chairman Searcy asked staff whether there are items in the report in need of Commission attention. He commented that Archstone-Marina Apartments is included in the report's "Response to Public Inquiries" section. Mr. Moliere responded that the report speaks for itself and there aren't any particular items he needs to bring to the Commission's attention. He noted, however, that staff informed Archstone-Marina of the concerns expressed by Ms. Alis Berin and Ms. Dina Novak at the January meeting. Archstone provided the Department with a written response to these concerns. Copies of the response were attached to the Ongoing Activities Report and placed on the public information table at today's meeting.

Mr. Moliere commented that, as with many controversial subjects, there are divided opinions. While there are displeased tenants, Archstone brought to the Department's attention many positive comments that were received from existing tenants. Archstone, if not before, has now gone out of its way to try to be responsive to the tenants' concerns. The company has indicated its intent to redouble its efforts to address concerns. Archstone representatives have also indicated a willingness to attend a future Commission meeting to address concerns and, if needed, meet with tenants after the meeting.

After hearing from the other Commissioners that they would like Archstone representatives to attend, Chairman Searcy requested staff to invite Archstone to the April 13 Commission meeting. Chairman Searcy commented that the meeting would provide an opportunity for public input and enable Archstone to hear the public's concerns. He said that there are concerns related to tenant relocation, building renovations, etc., and Archstone should be as humane and work as hard as possible to address these concerns.

Chairman Searcy also requested that the Argonaut reporter publicize in the newspaper Archstone's attendance at the April meeting.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens requested that staff ask Archstone to address the renovation costs for each unit. She believes the estimated amount is $40,000 per unit.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens also commented that the Department's staff report does not address the rent increase to existing tenants. This issue should be addressed at the April meeting since it is an ongoing concern that tenants have brought to the Commission's attention at previous meetings.

Commissioner Lesser commended staff on the Ongoing Activities Report and he noted in particular that the report includes follow up actions to the concerns that were expressed at the January meeting.

Chairman Searcy agreed that the report is excellent and he encouraged members of the public to read the entire report since, in addition to Archstone-Marina, it contains other items of interest.

b. Marina del Rey Convention and Visitors Bureau

Ms. Beverly Moore, Executive Director, Convention and Visitors Bureau, reported that hotel occupancy improved steadily over the past year. For six of the last 12 months, occupancy was reached at 70% or more. The year 2004 resulted in a 71% overall occupancy, which was much better than the previous two years.

The important thing for the County, Ms. Moore said, is that it increase the amount of hotel bed tax revenues that are generated for the County of Los Angeles. While all the figures aren't in, Ms. Moore expects 2004 to come in at approximately $4.8 million compared to $4.1 million in the previous year, which is approximately a 70% increase. This doesn't include the property tax revenues, the business license fees, the ground leases and the other percentage revenues that hotels generate directly to the County of Los Angeles.

The Bureau is also working hard to expand the reach of its Marina.com website. Overall, this website continues to be a very valuable marketing and informational tool for prospective visitors, but also for local residents because it's chocked full of helpful information on local events, such as boating help and dockmasters. Overall, the site received 7.5 million hits last year, one-half million page views and 175,000 unique visitors, which is double from the previous year.

For 2005 so far, the website has already had over 750,000 hits in January and February. There's an average of approximately 20,000 visitors per month to the site. The site is also linked to all of the County sites and local community organizations, which makes it easier to find information on all kinds of things in the community. On line hotel reservations were also added last April.

Through February 2005, approximately $50,000 in hotel room reservations that visitors made themselves on the website were generated. $20,000 of this amount was booked within the last 60 days during the months of January and February. The year 2005 is starting very strong. Ms. Moore is optimistic and hopes to keep the pace throughout the summer months.

7. COMMUNICATION FROM THE PUBLIC

Mr. David Naftalin, representative of the Marina Tenants Association, informed the Commission that:

I wanted to speak to the role of the Commission as a body that has a certain overarching concern with the issues of the Marina and is the logical place for members of the public to give their final input about these projects. The Marina Tenants Association is concerned primarily with two things. One of them is the tenants and their ability to have parking and some basic amenities of life and a reasonable rent without being gauged.

The second interest we have is having family boaters be out here so that... a guy like Steve Weinman, who just got an unsolicited bid, so that they can have repair facilities, so that they can launch their boats, so there can be places for small boats without people getting squeezed out. So that they cannot have too much traffic, so that they can get their boats here, get them launched, get them repaired. These are people of relatively modest means. This is our goal.

When you approve a transfer of a place like the Kingswood to Archstone and let Archstone pay $87 million to Kingswood, which they take off to the bank, that's kind of an indication of another kind of level of interest in the Marina. Not so much an interest in getting family boaters, not so much of an interest in protecting the lifestyle of 10,000 tenants that are already here, but an interest in high finance and big money. Each one of the projects that has been presented today has that level too.

So we get to a point where, as the Chairman commented, well some people are for this, some people don't want improvement, some people want that, well, the thing is it's almost a divide and conquer type thing. You can go to the Design Control Board. You can go to the Coastal Commission meeting. You can go to the Board of Supervisors and bang your head against the wall. You can come here and bang your head against the wall, but somebody has to be looking at which projects we're going to have.

My point is basically this, if you want to have 10,000 tenants out here and if you want to have some family boaters, well that's a lot. You kind of have to keep your eye on the ball of what is good for the family boaters and what is good for the tenants. It is not really room to have a third goal out here and that is to make this a big glitzy paradise for tourists and everything else. If you got a little bit of place for guys to do some fishing, for some family boaters to do some things, to pick up lunch, that's great. Nice to have places for people to eat, but there's not ecologically room.

This is a matter of common sense and not a matter of some kind of report to the Coastal Commission. There's not really room for five big high rise buildings surrounding Mothers Bay [Beach] and the quality of life for the present tenants and for the boaters.

Commissioner Lesser questioned whether Mr. Naftalin believes the Marina is intended for the approximately 10,000 residents who reside here and that it has nothing to do with the fact that the Marina is owned by the 13 million people who reside in Los Angeles County.

Chairman Searcy commented that Commissioner Lesser might be taking Mr. Naftalin's comments further than he intended.

Mr. Faughnan informed the Commission that Mr. Naftalin is one of the attorneys representing the plaintiffs in three lawsuits that are currently pending related to Villa Venetia, Neptune Marina and Archstone. Mr. Faughnan said that in the past the Commission's comments have been included in the plaintiffs' documents.

Ms. Nadine Gallegos informed the Commission that she attended the January 2005 California Coastal Commission's (CCC) Local Coastal Program (LCP) Review. The Reviews are a way for the Commission to evaluate whether the Coastal Act is being effectively implemented through local coastal plans. The Argonaut publicized the January LCP Review workshop, which served as part of a data gathering process to find out what Marina del Rey and the County are doing.

Ms. Gallegos stated that the Coastal Commission noted public comments and encouraged the public to write the Commission. The CCC's website posted item W6a, which is a Report on Priority Issues for Marina del Rey Periodic LCP Review (Priority Issues Memo). This memo includes eight pages in table format that display public comments taken from the January workshop and via email. She commented that the table provides a lot of information for the County to consider and use in the future.

Ms. Gallegos suggested that the Argonaut's reporters attend the upcoming Newport Beach LCP workshop. She commented that Mr. Wisniewski and his staff attended the January workshop and she hopes the Department is studying the Priority Issues Memo to report to the community.

Ms. Gallegos requested the Small Craft Harbor Commission to agendaize and report on the LCP Review workshops from now until their completion.

The Commissioners commented that it's a good idea to include an LCP update on future agendas. Mr. Moliere informed the Commission that the Department includes an update on the DCB agenda every month and would be happy to report on the matter at future Small Craft Harbor Commission meetings as well.

Ms. Gallegos referred to Vice-Chairperson Stevens' earlier request for staff to use a matrix so that information regarding proposals, etc., would be easier to read and understand. Ms. Gallegos reiterated that the CCC's Report on Priority Issues Memo has an attached table that identifies issues. Narrative serves as backup information or supporting documentation. She suggested that Beaches and Harbors' staff learn the Coastal Commission's techniques of business communication since it's "almost a strategy that if you want an issue to get lost" just provide the public with numerous pages of reading material.

Ms. Gallegos said that if the intent is to provide the necessary data to make a decision the reader should be given a table that summarizes or identifies key points, with supporting documentation attached.

Ms. Carpenter commented that the Department notified the public of the LCP Review workshop by posting a notification at the Department's facilities. Chairman Searcy asked whether the Department posted the notification on the website as well. He asked Mr. Faughnan whether there is a prohibition against posting such notices on the web. Mr. Faughnan responded that he isn't aware of any such prohibitions.

Ms. Andrus expressed frustration with seeing various projects, regardless of public opposition, obtain approval after going through the regulatory process. She recounted her recent experience contacting the County Assessor's office to ask how Doug Ring's property would be assessed. Ms. Andrus informed the Commission that a staff person in the Assessor's office told Ms. Andrus that the issue was too political and that staff "doesn't mention Mr. Ring's name in this office."

Commissioner Lesser asked Ms. Andrus to identify the name of the person to whom she spoke in the Assessor's office. Ms. Andrus responded that the staff names are Dave DuRall, Roger Wald or Scott Shanter. She suggested that perhaps Commissioner Lesser or Tom Martin, 4th District Deputy, could obtain the information pertaining to Mr. Ring.

Ms. Andrus explained that she isn't interested in Mr. Ring's personal finances, but since his business operation does affect the public a great deal, she would like information, such as the formula used to assess his property.

Ms. Andrus believes Mr. Ring's lease requires the property to be in continuous use and she wants to know if he's paying his taxes. Ms. Andrus also wants to know whether his base rent was increased. She commented that Beaches and Harbors hasn't responded to her questions from a previous meeting regarding the issue of Mr. Ring's rent increase on the "degraded docks at Bar Harbor that are scheduled for demolition."

Ms. Andrus said she wrote a letter to the Auditor-Controller's office regarding the sunset review for the Design Control Board and she didn't receive a response. That office wouldn't even review the tape that she sent. Ms. Andrus said she would provide the Commission with a copy of the letter and she hoped that, perhaps, Tom Martin could help "guide the letter through the proper channels."

Ms. Andrus stressed her need for answers and her discouragement after attending many Commission meetings and not receiving any response. Ms. Andrus expressed her weariness of the revolving door involved in going to the Coastal Commission meetings, Regional Planning meetings, Local Coastal Program Review workshops, Design Control Board meetings, etc. She wants fairness in the Marina and doesn't think it's fair what Mr. Ring has done with his property and she thinks his operation should be examined. Ms. Andrus said that it makes her nervous to stand before the Commission and talk about the matter over and over again, but she continues to do so because she believes Mr. Ring's actions are criminal.

Chairman Searcy commented that he's at a loss for words after hearing from Ms. Andrus that the Assessor's office would not give her the formula upon which evaluations and property assessments are based; after all, he believes this to be public information.

Mr. Klein asked the Commission why it has cancelled several meetings within the last year. He commented that cancellations are a dereliction of duty since there are issues that need to be addressed other than items in need of Board approval.

Chairman Searcy responded that Commission meetings are not cancelled just for the sake of canceling them but for various reasons, such as when a member falls ill and there is no quorum without him/her. He assured Mr. Klein that meetings are not cancelled with the intent to "hood wink" the public.

Vice-Chairperson Stevens commented that ten out of twelve meetings were held last year. She reiterated Chairman Searcy's explanation that there have been occasions when health or other reasons prohibited a Commissioner from attending a meeting.

Chairman Searcy stressed that the Commissioners believe in what they're doing and he doesn't perceive his participation as a game. Chairman Searcy expressed how tired he is of people "trying to push us around and tell us that we're either on the take or we don't care about the environment and that we cancel meetings for some mysterious reasons."

Chairman Searcy extended his apologies after blowing off some steam. He commented that it "may be time for me to step down 'cause I'm losing my patience with people who seem to think it's just a one way street to just shoot bullets and not come up with solutions."

Chairman Searcy questioned how Mr. Klein could imply that the Commission is canceling meetings for nefarious reasons. Mr. Klein responded that he wants the Commission to be aware there are important issues to be brought to the Commission's attention and it's upsetting for the public to wait sixty days to address the Commission when a meeting is cancelled.

Chairman Searcy reiterated that Commission meetings are not cancelled as a way for Commissioners to get out of doing their job.

Mr. Klein asked whether the copies of the seaworthy ordinance that were placed on the public information table are amendments to the ordinance. He explained that he didn't see any indication what the ordinance was placed on the table for. Chairman Searcy responded that the seaworthy and illegal mooring ordinances were placed on the public information table in response to a public request from the January meeting.

Relative to Mr. Wisniewski's earlier comment pertaining to Parcel 9U—Woodfin project and its possible wetlands designation, Mr. Klein informed the Commission that the Corps of Engineers took jurisdiction and determined that "a wetland habitat is supported on that parcel and this was in 2001. So they got this information a long time ago and it was also brought up recently in 2005." Mr. Klein commented that Mr. Wisniewski and possibly Joe Chesler are aware of this finding.

Mr. Moliere explained that part of the confusion when discussing a wetland is that there are a number of steps in a number of jurisdictions that determine whether or not an area is a wetland. In point of fact, the final determination of a wetland presumes that an agency takes final jurisdiction and that there are scientific tests to determine whether there are hydrological and biological wetlands and to what extent, etc.

Mr. Moliere said that when the Department was informed there might be some wetlands incursion on Parcel 9U, the Department contacted the appropriate agencies, including the Army Corps of Engineers, which, at the Department's request, looked at the area and assumed jurisdiction, not because tests were conducted and determination was made that there was a wetland, but because the area is near a navigable waterway and, although the other three agencies involved declined jurisdiction, the Army assumed jurisdiction because its statutory authority extends to areas near a navigable waterway. The final determination of whether there is a wetland occurs in this manner. Mr. Moliere said that, therefore, Mr. Wisniewski's earlier statement was correct. There has been no determination of a "wetland."

Mr. Moliere continued, informing the Commission that what has to happen is that during the rainy season, which just passed, there must be tests of the area to determine all kinds of things about soil condition and about the flora and fauna that happen to be there. This data has to be studied, submitted to the agencies and at that point determination can be made regarding whether there is a jurisdictional wetland for purposes of further development, its exact extent and nature, what can be done and what are the setbacks behind which no other activities should take place.

Mr. Hans Etter informed the Commission that he just left the Regional Planning Commission meeting, at which he expressed his opposition to the extension of Mr. Uri Ginzburg's liquor license. Mr. Etter said that despite his opposition, the license was granted. At that meeting, Mr. Etter also "submitted some evidence about what he's [Mr. Ginzburg] been doing, with the pollution and everything else."

Relative to the Parcel 9U wetland issue, Mr. Etter informed the Commission that "there's so much water that you can actually launch a canoe and spend a day kayaking around there. If that's not a wetland, I don't know what a wetland is."

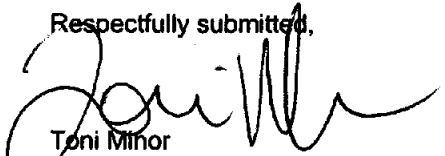

Commissioner Lesser informed the Commission that, due to business-related reasons, he would be unable to attend the May, July and August 2005 meetings.

Since there are concerns about the lack of a quorum for future meetings, Vice Chairperson Stevens and Chairman Searcy requested staff to contact the Third District regarding the Commission vacancy.

8. ADJOURNMENT

Chairman Searcy adjourned the meeting at 12:06 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Toni Minor
Commission Secretary

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS ACTIONS ON ITEMS RELATING TO MARINA DEL REY

At its April 5, 2005 meeting, the Board of Supervisors authorized the Chief Administrative Officer and Director of Beaches and Harbors to proceed with exclusive negotiations with the entity to be established jointly by The BoatYard and Westrec Marina Management, Inc., a California corporation, for a ground lease of Parcel 1S in Marina del Rey, that would enable the redevelopment of the fuel dock facility located on the leasehold, together with development of new adjunct facilities. The board also added the condition that any food service proposed as part of the project be limited to "take-out" food service only and that any landside development be limited to the height of the existing structure. This item was previously considered and endorsed by your Commission.

Also at its April 5, 2005 meeting, the Board of Supervisors provided in Closed Session negotiating instructions regarding the redevelopment of Parcel 1R (proposed Marriott Residence Inn), Parcel 27 (Jamaica Bay Inn) and Parcel 7 (Tahiti Marina).

Finally, the Board of Supervisors on April 5, 2005, awarded and instructed the Chair to sign contracts with Selbert Parkins Design, OHSO Design, and Admax Advertising and Design, at an aggregate annual County cost not to exceed $38,000, for as-needed graphic design services for Marina del Rey and County beaches, effective upon Board approval for three years, with two one year extensions available at the Director's discretion.

C. DCB #04-018-B – Marina del Rey Curb Treatment & Signage Program

Approval of the record of the DCB's February 2005 action approving the mole road signs; way-finding signs; information signs E2 through E18; the entrance monument identity signs with color option #1 and removal of the Beaches and Harbors logo; and the method of application for the curb treatment, with a condition that the intended locations on one mole road and a portion of Admiralty Way be marked prior to curb treatment implementation for Board review and that sign E1 (identification of the administration building) return with revisions concerning the size and placement of the logos.

Mr. Wong (Abelar) moved to approve DCB #04-018-B. Motion passed unanimously.

4. Old Business

A. Parcel 97 – Marina Beach Shopping Center – DCB #03-013-B

Consideration of modification to previously approved plan with respect to buildings A and B and park.

- Ms. Spitz suggested reinforcing the pavers with landscaping and asked if it would be possible to attach the landscape zones in the parking areas to the front entrances of the building. She also reminded the applicants that the Board previously requested that a portion of the parkway be screened.
- Ms. Cloke suggested that the building footprint could be decided at today's meeting, but a revised landscape plan was needed. She also suggested continuing the arcade that is located in front of Building C so that the pathway is not a flat place in the ground but has a pergola or something over it.
- Paul Thometz, applicant, advised that parking may be lost because of the angles of the parking spaces (angle and straight parking), but advised the Board that he would research its request.
- Michael Pashaie, applicant, advised the Board that the landscaping can be expanded and suggested placing planters in the areas of concern, so as not to lose parking spaces.
- Mr. Clark reminded the Board that parking was a major battle with this project and as revised, additional parking is being provided.
- To improve the appearance, increase safety and maximize parking, Mr. Phinney commented that the number of pedestrian crossings can be decreased, so that there are only crossings at areas where there is no parking impact and by building some type of landscape feature that gives the project a place of arrival for pedestrians and then disperses them along the accessways that connect the towers.

Public Comments

None

Ms. Spitz (Abelar) moved to approve DCB #03-013-B as to the building only with the understanding that the applicant will return to the Board with revised site and landscape plans. Motion passed unanimously.

B. Parcel 27 – Casa Escobar at Jamaica Bay – DCB #02-024-B

Consideration of an overdue application with respect to the existing paint condition and overall color scheme at Casa Escobar.

- Ms. Spitz concurred with staff in advising that the weathered portions of the building should be painted.

- Ms. Cloke questioned whether the Board could require a new color scheme.
- Ms. Silverstrom explained the status of term sheet negotiations and advised the Board that the parties are negotiating for a new project that did not include the restaurant and suggested that changing the colors would be impractical.
- Todd Moreau, lessee, agreed to paint the portions of the building that staff recommended by April 21, 2005.

Public Comments

None

Ms. Cloke (Spitz) moved to approve DCB# 02-024-B, directing the applicant to paint portions of the buildings that need painting due to maintenance and to match the existing paint of each respective building. Palawan Way and the Admiralty Way (Mothers Beach side) building sides should be painted to match existing Casa Escobar color scheme. The pool area should be painted to match Jamaica Bay Inn, which is white with blue trim. Motion passed unanimously.

5. New Business

A. Parcel 44 – Newport Boats at Pier 44 – DCB #05-004

Consideration of awning treatment to the Newport Boats building.

Ms. Carpenter advised the Board that the applicant requested a continuance as the awnings did not have enough ground clearance per the Building and Safety code.

Mr. Wong (Phinney) moved to grant the applicant a continuance. Motion passed unanimously.

6. Staff Reports

A. Marina del Rey LCP Periodic Review (verbal report)

- Mr. Wisniewski advised the Board that the March 10, 2005 California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff Report on the periodic review was approved by the CCC on March 16, 2005.
- Mr. Wisniewski stated that the approved report sets the direction for the pending work by Coastal staff. The CCC intends to include a draft of the periodic review on its June 2005 agenda.

B. Temporary Permits Issued by the Department

Report given by Ms. Carpenter.

TP #05-001-Ext – Temporary permit for five temporary banners for the Halibut Derby, which will be held April 2nd and 3rd. The extension permits the banners through April 4, 2005.

TP #05-003-Ext – Temporary permit for the tenants of building #2 (Christine Valmy, Flair Cleaners, the United States Post Office, Rainbow Acres, Pier I Imports and Bank of America) at Parcel 50 – Marina Waterside to each place one identification banner on the façades above their premises, and for the two corner tenants to place two banners. The extension permits the banners through March 18, 2005.

TP #05-004-Ext – Temporary permit for five temporary banners that read “Ralphs is Open During Construction” or “For Easy Exit, Please Exit Through Admiralty Way” at Parcel 50 – Marina Waterside. The extension permits the banners through April 3, 2005.

TP #05-006 - Temporary permit for one temporary banner and six temporary signs that provide access and parking directions to residents and visitors during renovations at Parcel 102 - Archstone. The banner and signs are permitted through March 12, 2005.

TP #05-006-Ext - Temporary permit for one temporary banner and six temporary signs that provide access and parking directions to residents and visitors during renovations at Parcel 102 - Archstone. The banner and signs are permitted through April 12, 2005.

- Mr. Phinney suggested that staff submit photos of temporary permits that will help identify what has been requested.
- Ms. Cloke advised staff that the Marina Waterside temporary banners are not living up to the “crisp and clean” standard. Staff advised they would follow up on the condition of the banners.

C. Redevelopment Update (verbal update)

Mr. Wisniewski advised the Board that there has been a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors (BOS) to negotiate exclusively with the proposer for the redevelopment of the fuel docks, Parcel 1. This item will be on the BOS agenda in April 2005. The three main priorities identified by the Small Craft Harbor Commission are: to maximize services to boaters; address concerns of the neighborhood; and maximize revenue to the County. Mr. Wisniewski advised the Board that this proposal has not yet come to the DCB. Staff is also negotiating a term sheet for Parcel 7 that is being submitted to the BOS in closed session for negotiating instructions. The BOS will also be considering in closed session negotiations for a proposed hotel on Parcels IR and 27, a major entry point into Marina del Rey, that will be designed to open a dramatic view in the Marina.

Mr. Wisniewski also mentioned that the Marina del Rey Fire Station #110 is under redevelopment.

Mr. Abelar left the meeting at 3:55pm

D. Ongoing Activities Report

❖ Board Actions on Items Relating to Marina del Rey

- Mr. Wisniewski advised the Board that on February 15, 2005 a new landscape and tree maintenance contract was approved. On February 8, 2005, the BOS requested that staff solicit new proposals from the three previous proposers regarding the redevelopment of Parcels 52 and GG for dry stack storage. On January 25, 2005, the BOS approved the capital project and funding for the Pardee Sea Scout Base refurbishment project. At the January 11, 2005 meeting, the BOS executed a one-year sole source contract with Culbertson Adams and Associates, the Department's CCC consultant.

❖ Small Craft Harbor Commission Minutes (SCHC)

- Mr. Wisniewski advised the Board that the February 2005 SCHC meeting was cancelled, and the March 2005 draft minutes will be mailed to the DCB members when they are complete.

❖ Parcel 9U update (verbal report)

- Mr. Wisniewski advised that the proposed developer has received the environmental report that it contracted for to study the wetlands issues. There have been discussions with the lessees of both the Parcel 9U and Parcels 10/FF projects and there has been an effort on part of the hotel proposer to address issues that were found in the environmental report. Mr. Wisniewski advised that staff has not received a copy of this report, but once it does a copy will be forwarded to the DCB.

❖ Marina del Rey and Beach Special Events

- Mr. Wisniewski advised that the opening day ceremonies for the yacht clubs would take place that weekend. He advised that Burton Chace Park offers bird watching and encouraged participants to register early for this event.

❖ Other Comments

- Ms. Cloke mentioned the corner parcel adjacent to Marina Waterside and asked if any consideration had been given to taking the extra green space and possibly placing it around the front of restaurant facilities so that pedestrians can sit at tables.

- Mr. Wisniewski advised that information regarding the Parcel 83 RFP (corner parcel adjacent to Marina Waterside) will be placed on the April 2005 DCB agenda.
- Ms. Spitz asked for staff to bring a copy of the landscape plan for Parcel 51 to the next meeting.

7. Comments From the Public

- Pat Younis, Westchester LAX/MdR Chamber of Commerce, asked for a definition of a parking permit in Marina del Rey and, specifically, whether a formal submittal and hearing at Regional Planning were required.
- Kevin Johnson, Regional Planning, explained that there is a provision that allows for a developer to request a reduction in the amount of parking that is required by code, or parking on an adjacent property or to share parking between other usages. There is an application procedure, including a hearing process, that has to be followed and findings from the Planning Commission are required to authorize the parking permit.

8. Adjournment

Meeting adjourned at 3:47 p.m.

Respectfully Submitted,

La Trina Hancock-Perry
Design Control Board Secretary
